We aim for all students to make strong personal and academic progress regardless of their need or background. There are currently 1131 students on the school roll.

At Woodhey we use the term 'Curriculum Support' to describe our SEND faculty. Our aim is for all pupils to access mainstream lessons as much as possible, whilst considering their individual needs and outcomes and for pupils to become as independent of support as possible before they leave us at the end of Year 11.

Woodhey has specialist provision for autistic pupils and those with communication difficulties - there are 15 places for pupils across the borough. Pupils in the provision attend mainstream classes for the majority of their lessons, however the provision has two classroom areas with individual booths etc. for any learning or support completed outside of mainstream lessons. These classrooms also act as a base for pupils and a safe, supervised area for outside of lesson times.

There is an experienced SENCo who has experience of leading a large team of staff who are at HLTA, TA3 and TA2 level. A team of HLTAs support the leadership and management of Curriculum Support.
